

Hi, my name is Daniel Bakic and I am a third year Sports Science student. I am passionate about mental health and wish to study a Master's in Psychology. During my second year I did a study abroad in Canada and saw the measures taken to support students and staff with mental health issues and this opened my eyes to the possibilities of bringing this to Kingston university. Therefore, I wish to submit myself to this cause and help anyone who wishes to have a helping hand, this stretches to our disabled community as well. In an essence, my emphasis would be to make Kingston University a more mental health and disabled friendly university with the resources to help one another thrive and make a difference. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.
